

Did you know?

Chocolate was once used as currency.

Cocoa beans were used as currency by the ancient Maya, and their use as currency can be traced back to at least the early 9th century. The Maya word for cocoa bean, kakaw, also referred to money or currency, and cocoa beans were used to buy goods and services, pay taxes, and even ransom prisoners.

www.pmg.engineering

Source-TourBy Mexico

Follow

We deliver End-to-End Engineering Design and Construction Management Projects in Food and Beverage Industry

PMG Engineering

Meeting Global Benchmarks

Process Engineering

Project Management

Food Safety

Automation

Mechanical & Electrical

www.pmg.engineering