

FROZEN PIZZA

Frozen pizzas are pre-cooked pizzas that have been frozen and packaged for sale in supermarkets, grocery stores, and other retail outlets. These pizzas are typically made with a pre-baked crust, sauce, cheese, and various toppings, such as meats, vegetables, and herbs.

Commercial Production

1. Dough Preparation:

Producing a frozen pizza is preparing the dough.

2. Sauce Preparation:

Prepared, the next step is to create the sauce that will be used on the pizza.

3. Topping Preparation:

After the sauce has been prepared, the pizza toppings are assembled.

4. Assembly:

Assembled onto the pizza crust to create the final product.

5. Baking:

Baked in a high-temperature oven to cook the crust and melt the cheese.

6. Freezing and Packaging:

Once the pizzas have been baked, they are quickly frozen to preserve their freshness.
