

MUSTARD

Mustard is a condiment made from the seeds of the mustard plant, which is a member of the Brassicaceae family. The seeds are ground into a paste and mixed with other ingredients such as vinegar, salt, and sometimes sweeteners and spices to create different varieties of mustard.

Types

Dijon Mustard

Yellow Mustard

Honey Mustard

Whole-grain Mustard

Market Scope

- The global mustard market is expected to grow in the coming years, driven by factors such as increasing demand for condiments and changing consumer preferences for healthier and natural ingredients.
- The mustard market is segmented by type, application, distribution channel, and geography.
- Some of the major players in the market include The Kraft Heinz Company, Unilever, H. J. Heinz Company, and ConAgra Foods, Inc.