OTHER COCOA AND CHOCOLATE PRODUCTS

Cocoa and chocolate products are derived from the seeds of the cacao tree. The seeds, or cocoa beans, are processed to create a range of products, including cocoa powder, chocolate bars, chocolate chips, cocoa butter, and more.

Commercial Production

Cocoa bean processing: Cleaned, roasted, and cracked to remove the outer shell, leaving the cocoa nibs.

Chocolate production: Sugar, milk, and other ingredients may be added to the cocoa liquor to create the desired flavor and texture.

Product formulation: Used to create various products such as chocolate bars, truffles, confectionery, and spreads.

Packaging: Packaged in various formats, such as boxes, pouches, or individually wrapped portions.
